

World Book Day      Ms Borg Class 3.3

The teacher together with the students went down to the school yard to read a story in Maltese which was called 'Taqsamx it-Triq Fuxa!' While she was going through the story she asked a couple of questions related to the story while they had to predict what will happen next. After, the students were divided in four groups where they were given short sentences about the story and they had to sort it out chronologically.
